Arizona Biltmore Golf Club Goes Pink for Breast Cancer Awareness Month

Written by Editorial

In honor of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, The Arizona Biltmore Golf Club will go pink this month to help raise money and awareness to help fight the disease. The Arizona Biltmore Golf Club staff will be wearing pink hats throughout October and the club will also have a number of fun ways for guests to participate and raise funds for charity, including:

- Pink Arizona Biltmore Golf Club golf hats will be available for sale in the golf shop, with 10 percent of proceeds going to charity.
- Pink breast cancer awareness wrist bands will be sold for $5 in the golf shop with all money raised going to charity.
- Guests wearing pink to play golf will receive a coupon for a free drink of their choice on the golf course.
- Guests who choose to walk the Adobe Course (after it reopens from overseeding) can play for just $22. $2 from every walking round on Adobe in October will be donated to charity.

All proceeds raised through the aforementioned initiatives will be donated to Arizona Assistance in Healthcare. Arizona Assistance in Healthcare helps patients undergoing cancer treatment in the Phoenix metro area. Arizona Assistance in Healthcare provides money for emergency non-medical expenses such as rent, utilities, car payments and various other needs.
