

Fabulosity- Terri Camberlangos: Model Mogul

Written by Written by Corbin Chamberlin

Terri Camberlango, owner of the Agency Arizona, is a model mogul and local fashion goddess.

Camberlango is one of the Valley's most intriguing individuals, and she does not limit her interests strictly to modeling and fashion (she is graduate from culinary school and a mom of two). When she is not sending her models around the world on incredible jobs, she is either dining at some of the Valley's most exquisite restaurants or entertaining at her well-designed and chic abode. Her style is pristine with impeccably fitted clothes that complement her figure. I recently sat down with Camberlango to get to know her better:

Tell me a little history of the Agency Arizona.

Margaret Merritt had the opportunity to start up a fabulous boutique agency. When she opened the agency, I came on as a model and, two years ago, as an owner.

When did you start working in the fashion industry?

Eighteen years ago, when I started modeling.

How many models do you represent?

Around 150.

I understand you went to culinary school. Did you have past ambitions of working in the food industry or was it just a hobby?

I had ambitions to cook well and eat healthy. When I was modeling, I was fortunate enough to travel to some amazing cities where I found my love for food. We are always entertaining, so it comes in handy.

You are beyond stylish. What are your personal rules to dressing?

I wear what fits well and feels right at the time. The majority of my closet is black—that works for me and is always an easy go-to.

Locally, where do shop?

Nordstrom, Neiman Marcus and Saks. I love going online to www.shopbop.com.

Your skin is impeccable. What beauty product can you not live without?

Thank you. I can't live without my Clarisonic face-cleansing brush.

When you're not in the office, where can we find you?

With my husband and two little ladies, Ava, 7, and Isabella, 4. We are either on the soccer field for their games or having friends and family over at our house. When we are on vacation, it's typically at the beach.

Favorite place to grab a bit to eat?

Oh, there are so many. I love Stingray Sushi for sushi and The Mission and El Bravo for Mexican. [I also like] Postino and Bandera. My husband and I just had date night at St. Francis—amazing.

What should every woman have in her closet this spring?

A light blazer, neutrals, one or two tribal pieces and some great prints to mix.
