Deep Tissue Massage at the Fairmont Princess

Willow Stream Spa is world renown, and they offer treatments perfect for women and men. One of the most popular types of massage, deep tissue, uses pressure to broaden the fibrous tissues of muscles, tendons and ligaments, breaking down adhesions and restoring mobility to the body. But this is more than just a deep tissue massage. It is heat-driven muscle repair that uses a targeted application of arnica-rich gel and steamed towels to ease muscle pain and relax stiff joints in your back and spine. The final result is greater mobility without the soreness that sometimes follows a deep tissue treatment. Choose from 60/90 minutes.
