Kathy Shayna Shocket has an inside view of the stories that make headlines.

A peek at the luxuries and the celeb who lived here.

If you take a peek inside this Paradise Valley, AZ. home which just sold for $2.16 million, there are only a few indirect hints that a famous athlete lived here. Yes, the pool and back yard of the 2.2 acre property has an outdoor golf hole with a chipping area, putting green and sand trap.

And there's a full sized tennis court. But those are both luxuries that many non-celeb homeowners enjoy. However, these amenities are where former famous baseball player Robin Yount and family stayed fit.

They also enjoyed a chef sized dream kitchen and large quaint bathroom.

The four bedroom, five- bath, 5,316 square foot abode is located on a private cul-de-sac lot with impeccable views of the mountains!! There's a pool house with bathroom and shower, pebble tech pool with diving board, and outdoor dining with built-in BBQ, and veranda.

Inside the colonial style home there's a den and bonus/game room with wood vaulted ceilings throughout the home.

Robin, a baseball Hall of Fame member, is most well known for his 20 years as a shortstop and center fielder for the Milwaukee Brewers!
