

Luxury Apartment of the Month in Phoenix: San Cervantes

Written by Jaclyn Weishar

Looking for a luxurious abode that you can escape to every day? Look no further than Mark-Taylor's San Cervantes. Occupants of this gorgeous property can enjoy the environment of a beachfront bungalow in the middle of the desert.

San Cervantes in Chandler allows its residents to revel in resort-style living with its luxurious amenities and beautiful setting, located walking distance from Chandler Fashion Center. Tenants are invited to head down to the beach at the tropical swimming pool, unwind in one of the spas, then grab a drink from one of the poolside cabanas. If you're looking for more action and excitement, you can start a game on the lighted tennis or sand volleyball courts. To top it off, you can also barbecue with your friends at the ramada.

With rates starting at just $899, you can live in this affordable and luxurious community that also features a functional clubhouse complete with a fireplace and a big-screen TV with a VCR and DVD player. You can also play host with the spacious kitchen and granite-topped counter overlooking the sparkling fountains outside. Stay fit with the 24-hour fitness center equipped with men's and women's changing rooms, showers and a steam room. Additionally, San Cervantes provides elliptical cross-trainers and stretch trainers, treadmills and cardio-touch bicycles. Toning up? The fitness center has you covered with free weights and keeps you entertained with its wireless entertainment system complete with TV, radio and CD players.
