

Luxury Apartment of the Month: San Travesia in Scottsdale

Written by Christina Silvestri

Here's a sneak preview of Mark-Taylor's newest residential community, San Travesia. Meaning "crossroads" in Spanish, San Travesia serves as the perfect gateway between Scottsdale and Tempe.

Lush desert landscapes and green lawns naturally fortify this private community that's both adjacent to the SkySong innovation center, and just minutes away from the ASU campus and Old Town Scottsdale.

Each one-, two- and three-bedroom residence within the intimate 440-unit complex will come complete with such custom home features as an open kitchen with an island, custom wood cabinets, stainless appliances, granite countertops, giant closets, dual vanity sinks, and more.

Residents can look forward to a resort-style swimming pool with expansive sundeck, poolside cabanas, and a whirlpool spa, plus a state-of-the-art 24/7 fitness center, equipped with individual workout stations and TVs, and a separate spinning studio.

Rates start from $1,050 per month for an 815-square-foot one bedroom with one-bath apartment to $1,975 per month for a 1,456-square-foot three bedroom with two-bath residence.

For more information, please visit www.mark-taylor.com/arizona/san-travesia.

7501 E. McDowell Road
Scottsdale, AZ 85257
(480) 281-5535