

Luxury Apartment of the Month: San Sonoma in Tempe

Written by Christina Silvestri

Come December, Tempe will welcome San Sonoma, a new Mark-Taylor luxury living community.

Located at the intersection of Priest Drive and Warner Road, San Sonoma is just minutes away from major freeways, like the I-10 and Loop 202, and Sky Harbor International Airport. The private, gated community is surrounded by major tech companies, entertainment destinations and upscale retailers that call this buzzing south central Tempe corridor home.

Each one-, two- and three-bedroom residence at San Sonoma will come complete with custom home features and amenities, like high ceilings, distressed plank floors, lush landscaping, generous living areas, ample storage, walk-in closets, gourmet kitchens and more.

Residents can take advantage of the community clubhouse and social lounge that's great for relaxing and hosting get-togethers. The serene, park-like environment also accommodates a resort-style swimming pool, picnic area, two volleyball courts, outdoor fire pits with cozy seating area and a playground for kids. San Sonoma's 24-hour fitness center is fully equipped with individual workout stations, virtual trainers, yoga studio and spin room.
