The team at Brown Jordan will work with you every step of the way to define the best plan of action. To assist you in the process, Brown Jordan offers a three-step guide:

1. Visit Brown Jordan: Take a visit to Brown Jordan at Scottsdale Quarter to discover your vision and design aesthetic. Get creative and share inspirational images of outdoor spaces, colors, textures and designs that you'd like to see in your outdoor dining area and discuss with a Brown Jordan specialist.

2. Create a Plan: Once you have an idea of the design palette, the next step is to make a blueprint of your brand new outdoor dining space. Consider answers to questions, like: How will the space be used? Do you plan to host large social gatherings, use the area for everyday use, or both? Will you need ample countertop space and storage options or a bar counter?

3. Material Selections: This is the exciting part, where your ideas come to life! From traditional to contemporary styles, choose your countertop and stainless steel cabinetry, replete with door styles and finishes. Apply finishing touches with functional appliances like, grills, barbecue hoods, pizza ovens, refrigerators, icemakers and much more.

If you're just looking to keep things simple and update your outdoor dining furniture, Brown Jordan also offers individual dining tables, chairs, and bar stools in a variety of styles and color palettes that will complement the natural design aesthetic of your home.
