

Crack Spade: Kate Spade Pool Party Clutch

Crack Spade

The whole team at Kate Spade must take LSD or something- they break the cuteness molds each and every month, without fail, and I can't help but wonder where their ideas come from. It may not even be the ideas- I think a big part of it is their courage and ability to flawlessly execute so many weird, cute things.

This season they have a series of pool party-esque goodies on their shelves. My favorite of all is this Pool Party Clutch, which actually features pool-printed patent leather and a clasp shaped like a teeny little pool ladder.

In all honestly, I'd probably only wear it once. But I'm sure I'd sleep better at night knowing this little guy was in my closet.
