Teensy Baby Bag

Let's cut to the chase - this little baby acrylic Jimmy Choo Candy Bag doesn't hold much, and isn't for the lady who needs Kleenex and pens and other stray nonsense at her side all the time. It's for those of us who are willing to sacrifice space for (extreme) levels of adorable. Even the name of this bag color, Champagne Glitter, is stupid cute.

I like to carry little clutches like this during the day, even if it means foregoing my wallet and keeping my phone in my pocket. Why reserve something so fantastically charming for only special occasions? Live your life.

Without Kleenex.
