

Tucson Boutique Guide

Written by Sarah Stanton

When you're itching to give the pocketbook a little exercise, check out these select boutiques, some of Tucson's best.

Bravo Boutique

A tapered twist on the typical French boudoir-style lingerie shop, Brav Boutique stocks designer brands like La Perla, Eres, Cosabella and Nicole Miller. 520.299.1588, <http://www.bravoboutique.com/>.

Kelly Rae Boutique

Girls, you are going to love the frills at this brand new boho-chic boutique located in Gallery Row. Rae's racks are stacked with lines like Organic by John Patrick, Elizabeth and James (Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen's line) and Eskandar. 520.529.2250, <http://www.kellyraeboutique.com/>.

Collage Boutique

Collage Boutique is a mass showcase of unique and stylish clothing, jewelry, handbags, cosmetics, footwear and accessories. 520.798.3838, <http://www.collage-boutique.com/>.

Pour Moi Boutique

Pour Moi is a clotheshound's dream, stocked with designer and contemporary clothing. You'll find favorites like Dolce & Gabbana, G. Ferre and Moschino. 520.577.6371, <http://www.pourmoi.net/>.

Sigi's Boutique

You can find high-end and casual fashions at Sigi's Boutique. This is the perfect place for eclectic dresses too. 520.529.2253, <http://www.sigisboutique.com/>.

Zoe Boutique

When looking for vintage finds, Zoe Boutique is the way to go. Bright-color clutches, big bangles and an array of sunglasses abound at Zoe's. 520.740.1201, <http://www.zoestyle.com/>.

Avenue Boutique

Get girly with the fashions found at Avenue Boutique. The store even stocks high-end intimate apparel in the lingerie lounge: indulge yourself with brands like Hanky Panky, Scanty and Dessous. 520.886.3618, <http://www.avenue-boutique.com/>.
