

What's Happening at Fox Tucson Theatre

Written by Ashley Pearlstein

Fox Tucson Theatre has been a favorite local hotspot for comedy, plays, movies, and music since 1930. Located in the heart of downtown, the theatre's romantic setting is perfect for a night out. Here are some highlights of what Fox has in store for the remainder of 2012.

Gentlemen Prefer Blondes

Saturday and Sunday, October 6 and 7, Fox will screen the film classic, Gentlemen Prefer Blondes. The film tells a tale of two singers who travel to Paris on a great adventure. The 1953 classic will show at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 to $7 per person.

The Music of Michael Jackson

In a tribute to Michael Jackson, the Tucson Symphony Orchestra will play music from the earlier Jackson 5 album all the way through to Thriller, The Wall, and Bad. Gavin Hope will be on lead vocals for the evening. The show is October 12 at 8 p.m. and tickets start at $33 per person.

Comedians of Chelsea Lately

Angel Charity is holding an event Saturday, October 27 at 7:30 p.m. at Fox. The comedians from Chelsea Lately will bring their act to the Fox stage for this first time event. Proceeds will benefit Angel Charity for Children's 30th year beneficiaries: Our Family Services and The Tucson Nursery School. Tickets start at $20 per person.

Jim Brickman

Jim Brickman has sold over 7 million records with his romantic piano sound, making him the best-selling solo piano artist of our time. "Valentine," "The Gift," "Love of My Life," and "Simple Things," are a few of his hits that will be featured. Tickets for the show start at $25 per person. The show will take place Thursday, November 8 at 7:30 p.m.
