

JW Marriott Starr Pass

Written by Written by Christine Whitton

Monday, 16 November 2009 09:10 - Last Updated Monday, 16 November 2009 10:11

Autumn is finally upon us. So, why not utilize your weekends they way they should be—outdoors, relaxing in fall-like temperatures. Well, in order to do that we suggest you venture down south to Tucson and its elaborate JW Marriott Starr Pass Resort and Spa.

The JW Marriott Starr Pass, the receipt of several accolades, sits just outside Tucson. Surrounded by picturesque mountains, superior golf, rejuvenating spa treatments and stellar cuisine, one may actually never want to leave. And could you blame them? Inside, the resort's 575 spacious guestrooms and 35 suites are all affixed with patios or balconies that overlook Tucson's lush landscape. The rooms' warm colors and custom-made furnishing offer a tranquil and peaceful place to sleep.

Downstairs, several restaurants offer an array of culinary delights. Whether you begin at the hotel lobby bar, Salud, savoring a hand-blended margarita or move to the resort's dining destination, Primo, each and every meal at the JW Marriott will be superb. Behind the scenes, the culinary team spends hours preparing all the fresh ingredients it needs in making each meal taste its best.

Outside, emerald greens call the names of avid duffers. With tee times available at your discretion, one can golf at dawn or at dusk. The resort's 27-hole Arnold Palmer Signature Golf Facility was recently redesigned, offering a more exciting and challenging round of golf.

After an enjoyable afternoon, meet your better half at the Hashani Spa at Starr Pass for some much needed r-and-r. There, unwind with a Sonoran Desert Quench Wrap, a noteworthy treatment after an afternoon of fun in the sun, or pamper your digits with the Hashani Hand and Foot Ritual, a treatment devoted solely to your hands and feet. Or perhaps you beckon a few flavors of fall. In that case, rest your eyes beneath a soothing layer of pumpkin and cinnamon with the Pumpkin Enzyme Facial followed by a tickling brown sugar mani and pedi. Sounds sweet!

And with several nights reserved at the very posh JW Marriott, why not reserve one day for downtown Tucson? Driven by the Southwestern culture, downtown Tucson is peppered with art galleries, museums, historic churches, theatres, sporting events and trendy boutiques. Whether wandering the streets and sightseeing from a nearby cafe, downtown Tucson does not disappoint. For more information on the JW Marriott Starr Pass Resort and Spa please visit, www.jwmarriottstarrpass.com.