

Art Classes in Tucson

Written by Ashley Pearlstein

Monday, 15 July 2013 16:48 - Last Updated Monday, 15 July 2013 17:03

Summer in Arizona is the perfect time to get involved in fun, indoor activities. Let your creativity shine and take advantage of the many art classes Tucson has to offer.

Southern Arizona Arts Guild

The Southern Arizona Arts Guild Gallery offers a variety of artistic classes throughout the year for adults and children. Join the gallery July 18 for an Origami for Beginners from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday, August 8 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.; the gallery will feature a Watercolor Batiking class for $95 per person. Check the website for information about classes through the guild.

www.southernazartsguild.org.

Painting by: Kay Mitman

Creative Juice Art Bar

The Creative Juice Art Bar is the perfect place for adults to let their creative juices flow. Guests can choose a painting class, get a drink from the bar, and enjoy an artistic evening with friends, a date, or alone. Each class is $35 and includes a 16x20 canvas, brushes, paints, and your first drink. Learn to paint things like "Funky Flowers," a cross, a starry night, and more.

www.creativejuiceartbar.com.

The Drawing Studio

The Drawing Studio, located on Sixth Avenue, offers a wide variety of classes and workshops for beginners and advanced students. Courses include Drawing Fundamentals, Printmaking, Painting, Pastel, and more. Classes are located at different locations across Tucson for convenience and variety. Contact The Drawing Studio today to begin your path to being a better artist.

www.thedrawingstudio.org.

Tucson Museum of Art

The Tucson Museum of Art features a variety of media classes from painting and drawing to photography and landscape design. Students learn techniques and skills to improve their confidence in their abilities. Check online or call for a list of available classes and prices.

www.tucsonmuseumofart.org.

Color Me Mine

Color Me Mine, located in the Park Place Mall, offers workshops each month for adults and children to broaden their artistic horizons. At 6 p.m.

Art Classes in Tucson

Written by Ashley Pearlstein

Monday, 15 July 2013 16:48 - Last Updated Monday, 15 July 2013 17:03

on Thursdays, ladies can enjoy Diva's Dish & Design, a ladies' night out at Color Me Mine. Each class has a different theme such as "Fuzzy Flowers," "Natural Strokes with Underglazes," and "Crystal Ink Spots." The more classes you take, the less you will pay!
www.tucson.colormemine.com.