

10 Things to do This Weekend in Phoenix: Family Edition

Written by Lilly Berg

Monday, 28 October 2019 16:03 - Last Updated Wednesday, 30 October 2019 11:45

Halloween has come and gone, but the cool temperatures are here to stay. From Nov. 1 through Nov. 3, bask in the blissful fall weather at these unique, family-friendly events. From boat racing to cultural festivals, you'll never want the weekend to end.

Friday

18th Annual American Lebanese Festival

Explore the amazing Lebanese culture through food, music and more this Friday from 5 to 10 p.m. The 18th Annual American Lebanese Festival will be held at St. Joseph's Maronite Catholic Church with lively entertainment and other engaging activities. General admission is $3, and kid's games are free of charge.

Gilbert Off the Street Art Festival

Enjoy cooler temperatures from 4 to 9 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 1, at the Gilbert Off the Street Art Festival. Food trucks, artists, music and more will be offered for all guests to indulge in. Admission is free, and the festival will be hosted in the lovely Heritage District in Downtown Gilbert.

10 Things to do This Weekend in Phoenix: Family Edition

Written by Lilly Berg

Monday, 28 October 2019 16:03 - Last Updated Wednesday, 30 October 2019 11:45

Rock the Boat Music Festival

Hidden Lake in Buckeye is having their very first Rock the Boat Music Festival all weekend long. Featuring hydroplane boat races, camping and specialty vendors, this unique event is one that the entire family to enjoy. The admission fee is $10, and the fun starts at 4 p.m. on Friday afternoon.

Candytopia

Got a sweet tooth? Journey into the world of Candytopia this Friday from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Get lost in a world of sugary treats and trinkets. Swim in a pool of marshmallows or sample candies and truffles all day long. This delicious event is located at the Scottsdale Quarter. Tickets start at $20.

Saturday

Local First Arizona Fall Fest

Celebrating everything Arizona, the Local First Arizona Fall Fest will occur from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 2. Enjoy the festival for free and participate in local favorite food samplings, a sport's zone, a kid's zone, live entertainment and more. Arizonans of all ages will love learning about the state that they call home this weekend at Margaret T. Hance Park.

10 Things to do This Weekend in Phoenix: Family Edition

Written by Lilly Berg

Monday, 28 October 2019 16:03 - Last Updated Wednesday, 30 October 2019 11:45

Fashion Week 4 Kids

Enjoy a full day of fashion shows and children's activities at Desert Ridge Marketplace from 10a - 4p during Fashion Week 4 Kids. See the seasons trends from brands like Cheeky Chic Baby & Kids Boutique, Justice and Gap and take in performances from Actors Youth Theatre, DJ Thunder Ninja and Scottsdale Parkour. Other entertainment includes a Scholastic Book Fair, Craft Zone, Face Painting, Yard Games, Sing a Longs with Disney characters, Meet & Greet's with Arizona sports mascots and superheroes and much more. Plus, AZ Foothills will close out the day with the reveal of our new Junior Face of Foothills.

Zoo Tots, Farm Theme

The Phoenix Zoo presents Zoo Tots this Saturday at 10 a.m. This hands-on, educational event will introduce your little ones to the sweetest farm animals at the zoo. Children can pet the animals, learn about their sounds and practice vocabulary. Registration is required, and every child/adult pair starts at $20.

Sunday

Walk for Wishes with Kids4Kids

Be a part of something bigger this weekend at the Walk for Wishes event. The Phoenix Zoo has partnered up with the Make-A-Wish foundation in honor of children with critical illnesses. With your support and donations, we can help grant wishes to those in need. Join your community and walk for an incredible cause this weekend from 7 a.m. to 12 p.m. Donations can be made here.

SerbFest

Learn about the rich history of Serbia through folklore dances and traditional foods at the SerbFest this Sunday from 12 to 8 p.m. You won't want to leave without trying Palacinke, a sweet snack resembling pancakes. Families will also enjoy the kid's zone full of bounce houses and other activities. Admission costs $4; children 12 and under are free.

10 Things to do This Weekend in Phoenix: Family Edition

Written by Lilly Berg

Monday, 28 October 2019 16:03 - Last Updated Wednesday, 30 October 2019 11:45

Chato's Kitchen at The Herberger Theater Center

Chato the cat is back, and he is hungry. Luckily, a few new mice friends moved in next door, but there are few more surprises in store. Find out this Sunday, Nov. 3, while watching Chato's Kitchen at the Herberger Theater Center from 1 to 3 p.m. Tickets start at $12. Get ready to giggle!