

Arizona Theatre Brings us Sex and the Second City Version 2.0

Written by Sona Patel

Wednesday, 16 March 2011 15:04 - Last Updated Wednesday, 16 March 2011 15:26

Leave the dishes unwashed, the dirty laundry in the hamper, and get a sitter for the kids. It's time to take the night off and enjoy a much needed grown up night. Grab your honey, your friends, or heck just yourself and get your laugh on at the Arizona Theatre Company's limited engagement.

From the comedy kingdom that brought us the beloved Tina Fey, Steve Carrell, John Belushi and many others this crack up comedy is about finding and falling in love in the digital age. "Whether you've been poked, winked or tweeted--or even found love the (gasp) old-fashioned way--you'll LOL at this hilarious look at the technology that was supposed to make our love lives so much easier, but only made it that much more complicated." Be prepared because this romp is bound to have you and your date ROFL (rolling on floor laughing).

If you missed The Second City comedy's big hit last performance in Arizona, "The Second City Does Arizona, or Close but No Saguaro," don't feel too left out because they are bringing it with their latest performance.

Due to audience demand, Arizona Theatre Company has added a performance on Sunday, March 27 at 7:00 PM. It all begins in Tucson on March 23rd and with only 7 performances, you better snag those tickets fast. Tickets start at $34 and are available for purchase through the ATC website www.arizonatheatre.org or through the box office in Tucson by calling 520.622.2823.