When the goin' gets tough—the tough gets blowin'. Get blown away at the Drybar location now in Scottsdale.

Getting ready to go out for a night on the town is half the fun—and half the battle. From hair to makeup to wardrobe, there never seems to be enough time. Well, it's time to blow away part of the battle with this new hair philosophy that is making waves in Scottsdale. Enter, Drybar—the ultimate place where ladies can sit, sip, relax, and get blown away with a stylish blowout. This salon offers no cuts or color, just blowouts—and all for the fabulous price of $35.

It's the perfect place to finish your primping, especially if you're like me and have just as much fun getting ready with your girls as you do going out with them. The product alone is high on the volume and low on the chemicals, taking the guilt out of guilty pleasure.

Begin with a wash, allowing the citrusy scents and soothing conditioner work through every strand of your hair. Then choose from a menu of delicious styles named after cocktails such as the cosmopolitan, a head full of loose curls, or the Mai Tai, beachy hair full of waves, and let the dry pros do the rest. As you sit, enjoy a chick-click (I caught part of Bridesmaids), charge your cell at one of their charging stations, conveniently located right at the bar, or catch up the latest trends and convos with your gal pals. Within the hour of arriving, you will be ready to go, fully prepared for what the day or night brings. 15147 N. Scottsdale Rd #115 Scottsdale, AZ 85254, 480.607.5064, www.thedrybar.com/scottsdale
