The very popular Scottsdale Jean Company has teamed up with PHX Architecture and Lawrence Lake Interiors for development of their new flagship store!

Scottsdale Jean Company has become a shopping destination for women and men around the Valley looking for the perfect fit in designer jeans and clothing, quickly becoming Arizona's largest independently owned retailer in these categories shortly after opening in 2005. Not only does Scottsdale Jean Company offer an unmatched selection of designer jeans; they also offer fashionable apparel and accessories for both women and men of all ages. The present Scottsdale Jean Company store in North Scottsdale is in a 10,000 square foot retail space so it's no wonder why Scottsdale Jean Company is able to showcase over 80 of the hottest designer brands in one location.

Scottsdale Jean Company has operated its flagship location out of the same shopping center in North Scottsdale since opening in 2005 and they're very excited to make the move to The Shops at Gainey Village in February 2012. After teaming with two of Arizona's most celebrated architects and interior designers, SJC is excited for the development of their new location. "We are very excited to work with Scottsdale Jean Company on the new flagship store. Since their fit specialists were able to perform a personal fashion makeover on me a few years ago, it is exciting for PHX Arch to be able to reciprocate and design their new space," said Erik Peterson AIA of PHX Architecture.

The design that PHX Architecture and Lawrence Lake Interiors have created will be chic and stylish, featuring polished concrete floors, metals, natural elements and color schemes. Through his retail expertise, along with customer input, owner Steven Koeppel has guided his visions for this new store. "We are creating a warm and stylish Interior that reflects the quality and fashion of Scottsdale Jean Company's offerings and the fabulous new Gainey Village location," said interior designer Lawrence Lake ASID. Scottsdale Jean Company, PHX Architecture and Lawrence Lake Interiors are very excited to see this vision coming together. Scottsdale Jean Company fans are equally excited with the move to this beautiful center, conveniently located in Scottsdale at The Shops at Gainey Village. The new flagship store will offer the same great selection and service visitors have come to expect from SJC.
