Say "aloha" to the Brothers Cazimero when they travel to Phoenix for two performances at the Musical Instrument Museum on November 12 and 13. The Saturday night show is already sold out and tickets for the Sunday night show are selling fast.

This bass and guitar duo has made an indelible imprint on the face of the contemporary musical culture of Hawaii, and they will be sharing their talent, longevity, and aloha spirit with guests of the MIM Music Theater. The Grammy-nominated pair was inducted into the Hawaiian Music Hall of Fame in 2006 and continues to contribute to Hawaiian culture through a respectful look at the past and an exploration of the new components of music and dance.

Remarkable entertainers on stage, the Brothers Cazimero achieve a full-bodied sound that emanates from two traditional instruments: the acoustic bass and a twelve-string guitar. Their music has been celebrated around the world with performances in New York, Australia, Hong Kong, and Tokyo.
