Alert: Christmas is a mere three days away. To make last-minute shopping frenzy-free, Scottsdale Fashion Square is granting life-saver luxuries of time, ease and convenience, little found during the last week of holiday shopping.

You can already expect to find one-of-a-kind shopping, dining and entertainment at the world-renowned shopping mecca throughout the year. But now, celebrate the holidays with Scottsdale Fashion Square's last weekend of the exclusive White Glove Holiday experience.

The holiday frenzy stops upon arrival when friendly, white-gloved doormen from the Lyons Club greet guests in a classic red-carpet entrance. If you're overwhelmed by the idea of more than 240 retailers to gift from, head over to the Concierge Satellite Locations for gift ideas, mall gift cards and extra assistance.

Just for the procrastinator, stop by the Procrastination Station in the Nordstrom Court for some inspiration for unique and last-minute gift ideas through the 24th. Additionally, Fashion Square's very own roving concierge, Peter Harden, will be available for any and all VIP assistance needs.

Kids can visit Santa on the top level of the Nordstrom Wing between shopping breaks for photos and a free gift through December 24 during designated hours that can be found on Scottsdale Fashion Square's website.

Since the holidays are just as much about giving as receiving, the Salvation Army Angel Tree will provide toys for children in need outside the Macy's Court.

Meanwhile, check out Scottsdale Fashion Square's very own Ultimate Gift Guide to help you pregame before you hit the crowds, or simply use the QR codes to download Gift Guides to your smartphone that are also available at concierge.
