If you're looking for a relaxing spa experience to indulge in this summer, look no further. The Ritz-Carlton Spa, Dove Mountain is welcoming a new manager and new treatments to enjoy just in time for the sunny season.

The Ritz-Carlton Spa, Dove Mountain in Tucson is already acclaimed as being one of the best, and according to general manager, Liam Doyle, takes a "top-ten-in-the-world ranking from TripAdvisor.com."

This beautifully decorated Ritz-Carlton Spa covers an astounding 17,000 square feet and includes 14 treatment rooms, a decked-out couple's suite, and an elegant private spa serenity pool with misted cabanas. In addition, the spa offers high-quality salon and spa services.

The spa comes complete with a fitness center and fitness classes to participate in both indoors and outdoors, including an alfresco breakfast yoga session. New healthy meals are also provided poolside or wherever else you choose to enjoy them at your leisure to accompany your workout and relaxation.

Marysell Diaz-Garcia is the newly announced spa manager who has already begun introducing some of the wonderful new changes and additions to The Ritz-Carlton Spa. Previously managing spa operations at The Ritz-Carlton Spas in Puerto Rico and Florida, she looks forward to taking her new position.

"Having come to Arizona from a humid environment, I have top-of-the-mind appreciation of the impact on skin of drier climates. This has inspired me to create a new series of special spa experiences focused on fundamentally-important hydration issues, and we plan to launch those innovations very soon. We have also just introduced our new spa lunch menu and encourage guests to enjoy its many healthful choices. The new menu allows our day-spa guests to spend a full seven or eight hours with us, and to experience a nurturing and rejuvenating local day-getaway just a short drive from their Tucson or Phoenix homes."

Don't miss out on the new spa enhancements even if you have already taken advantage of some of the treatments The Ritz-Carlton Spa, Dove Mountain has to offer.
