

Haunted Houses in Phoenix 2018

Written by Kyle Warren

Tuesday, 09 October 2018 19:00 - Last Updated Wednesday, 10 October 2018 08:12

Photo courtesy of 13th Floor.

Although the Valley might not be known as a hub for spooky sightings or its eerie histories, it certainly is not short of haunted houses and buildings that locals and tourists alike can explore during the Halloween season. With blood-pumping fright nights and adrenaline-inducing experiences taking place at haunted houses across the Valley, everyone can join in on the frightful festivities this season.

Photo courtesy of The Crypt.

The Crypt Haunted Attraction [MESA]

The Crypt is known as one of Arizona's longest-running haunted houses. With three attractions: the Crypt, the Asylum and Chaos, this adrenaline-infused event will inspire guests with new scares and heart-pounding thrills. The event runs through the end of October, and tickets start at $25. For more information on this event, click here.

Scarizona Scaregrounds [MESA]

Scarizona Scaregrounds is one of Arizona's largest haunted houses. The spooky grounds feature sites like the Haunt World and Arizona Haunted Houses. With a variety of terrifying attractions, Scarizona is sure to frighten even the strongest of souls. The event runs from Oct. 5 to Nov. 3. Admission tickets start at $22. For more information on this event, click here.

AZ Field of Screams [GLENDALE]

Test your instincts as you maneuver your way through AZ Field of Screams, an eerily quiet and dark corn field that was once planted over an old cemetery. Beware of the creatures of the living dead that are known to roam the grounds and to haunt all who dare to enter. The event will run through the month of October and is open to the public on Fridays and Saturdays from 7 to 11 p.m. Admission tickets are $20. For more information on this event, click here.

Photo courtesy of Barbara Trainor Photography and the Haunted Graveyard official Facebook page.

Haunted Houses in Phoenix 2018

Written by Kyley Warren

Tuesday, 09 October 2018 19:00 - Last Updated Wednesday, 10 October 2018 08:12

The 13th Floor Haunted House [PHOENIX]

The Valley's very own 13th Floor has been noted as being one of the spookiest experiences in the state. Even the Huffington Post has talked up this Phoenix haunt, going as far as to call it one of the scariest haunted houses in the nation. Between terrifying life-like creatures and immersive sets, this experience is sure to leave you spooked. The 13th Floor is open through Nov. 3, and admission tickets start at $27.99. For more information on this event, click here.

Haunted Graveyard [SCOTTSDALE]

Chris Birkett has developed a reputation as being the master of ghoulish frights and delights at his very own Haunted Graveyard. This iconic, East Valley favorite has served up scares for more than 30 years. This spine-tingling haunted house is slated to return again this year, and will run from Oct. 27 to Oct. 31. The event is free, though donations are appreciated and encouraged. For more information on the Haunted Graveyard, click here.

Photo courtesy of the Fear Farm official website.

Fear Farm [PHOENIX]

This classically-spooky haunted house provides the perfect balance of fear and fun. Fear Farm is the largest outdoor attraction in the Valley that features a corn maze, a haunted hayride and several indoor/outdoor haunted attractions. This season, Fear Farm is open from September through November, with varying days and hours. Tickets start at $27.99. Due to the intensity of the event, children under the age of 12 require parental and/or adult supervision. For more information on this event, click here.

Sanctum of Horror [MESA]

Sanctum of Horror offers a unique take on the classic, haunted house theme. At this terrifying, East Valley hot spot, the Sanctum of Horror is populated by bone chilling creatures that wreak havoc and inspire fear for all who dare to enter. The event is open through Nov. 3, and admission tickets start at $22. For more information on this event, click here.