

Corbin's Best Dressed at the Emmy Awards

Written by Written by Corbin Chamberlin

Monday, 30 August 2010 09:49 - Last Updated Monday, 30 August 2010 10:18

Corbin Chamberlin shares his picks for Tinsel Town's best dressed at the 2010 Emmy Awards.

Lea Michele- No other designer represents quintessential elegance like Oscar de la Renta. He does nothing to dispel this statement with Michele in this brilliant blue gown that seems to be cascading down her body.

Claire Danes- Splendor by sparkle. This Armani confection worn by Danes lit up the red carpet. The glistening gown was perfectly complimented by Danes' golden hair and gorgeous smile.

January Jones- Much too often I am undoubtedly underwhelmed with the safe choices of Hollywood celebrities. Jones rocked a dress that was as original as her name. The blissful blue gown was created by Versace.

Corbin's Best Dressed at the Emmy Awards

Written by Written by Corbin Chamberlin

Monday, 30 August 2010 09:49 - Last Updated Monday, 30 August 2010 10:18

Anna Paquin- Paquin came to the Emmys ready for battle, with her chic armor was provided by Alexander McQueen. The exquisitely embellished dress was a fabulously original choice that stood out from the rest.

Elisabeth Moss- Moss perfectly pulled off this goddess gown from Donna Karan. The refined color and intricate details made for a neutral masterpiece.