Pastel colors, spring dresses, decorative eggs, and candy galore... Easter is one of the subtle, relaxing holidays families can look forward to every year. It's a time to be with friends or family, perhaps spend a little time outdoors, and yes, hunt for eggs. Chances are, Easter day will create memories that will be remembered for years to come, and there's nothing better than looking back at the kiddos sitting on the Easter Bunny's lap – laughing, crying, you name it. Easter Bunny photos are always a good time, so check out some of these spots this month to get a quick snapshot!

Bunny Palooza at the Fairmont Scottsdale Princess

Easter Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. the Fairmont Scottsdale Princess Easter brunch and resort guests are invited to Bunny Palooza: a new springtime Easter playground for the whole family. This event will feature live music from Grammy-nominated children's artist Secret Agent 23 Skidoo, performances by high-energy entertainers Something Ridiculous, a Ferris wheel bounce slide, petting zoo, pony rides, rock climbing wall, hourly Easter egg hunts, photos with the bunny and more. scottsdaleprincess.com

Easter Bunny Pictures at Sportball

Parents can bring cameras and snap free photos of their children posing with the Easter Bunny Sat., March 19, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. The complex will also host a 30-minute Easter egg hunt from 4 to 4:30 p.m., with an exciting obstacle course for the kids to play in. No cost to attend, but bring an Easter basket. www.sportball.us

Hunt for 1,000 Eggs, Meet and Greet with the Easter Bunny at Chaparral Suites Scottsdale

Spend Easter morning at Chaparral Suites Scottsdale, soon-to-be Embassy Suites by Hilton Scottsdale Resort, and let the kiddos hunt for 1,000 eggs hidden all throughout the 15-acre resort, starting at 9:30 a.m. After the hunt, eat up with an Easter Brunch prepared by award-winning Chef John du Toit. ($55 for adults, $27 for children ages 8 to 12, children 7 and younger are free) The Easter egg hunt, open to hotel guests and members of the public, will begin on the Silverman Terrace. Twelve eggs will be stuffed with major prizes like free brunches and dinner at the resort. The resort will host a plethora of activities like a meet and greet with the bunny, face painting, and a small petting zoo with baby bunnies. chaparralsuites.com
