

Desert Sky Pavilion Renamed

Written by Caitie Andreen

Friday, 21 June 2013 09:58 - Last Updated Friday, 21 June 2013 10:54

EXTRA EXTRA!

Say goodbye to the Desert Sky Pavilion and hello to the Ak-Chin Pavilion!

This Pavilion, operated by Live Nations, has been part of the Arizona Community since 1990. Since its opening concert with Billy Joel the Desert Sky Pavilion has hosted some of the most profound artists the music world has to offer. Over the years millions have gathered in this outdoor concert venue to see these artists perform.

This renaming of the Desert Sky Pavilion is because of the newly formed partnership with Live Nations entertainment company and the AK-Chin Indian Community. Under the partnership agreements the Ak-Chin Indian Community recieved naming rights to the pavilion.

Both Live Nations and the Ak-Chin Indian Community are happy with this new partnership. The Ak-Chin community is excited to be part of a venue that attracts thousands from all around the Valley.

Ak-Chin Pavilion will host some of this countries biggest artists this year. You willl have the chance to see artists like John Mayer, Rascal Flatts, Keith Urban, and much more. Be a part of Arizona's history as this newly named pavilion continues to host quality live music entertainment.