

Locavore Bash & First Friday at the Heard Museum

Written by Nicole Royse

Friday, 24 April 2015 13:59 - Last Updated Tuesday, 28 April 2015 15:23

First Friday means Native + You (NU) at the Heard Museum featuring their popular evening and celebration of the arts each month and May is featuring 'Locavore Bash'.

NU highlights "fresh events to the Heard to share the cultural pulse of Phoenix and the Southwest today and free evening admission to the museum!" May Day at the Heard Museum will feature an incredible evening with "Locavore Bash" on, May 1st that will showcase a farmer's market, tastings, food booths, and music in the Central Courtyard. The farmers market will be showcasing several local vendors offering a diverse selection of local treats including AZpops, B Naked Chocolate, Desert Delights, Goldwater Foods, Pickled Perfection, Nutwhats/Nuts 4 Brittle and Trendy Truffles.

This special event will run from 5:30 until 9:30pm. The Heard Museum is located at 2301 North Central Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona 85004. For more information about the Heard Museum or this event visit <http://www.heard.org>.

Locavore Bash & First Friday at the Heard Museum

Written by Nicole Royse

Friday, 24 April 2015 13:59 - Last Updated Tuesday, 28 April 2015 15:23

While you are in downtown Phoenix be sure to explore the amazing art scenes featuring over 100 galleries, artist studios, and local businesses participating each month with extended hours on First Friday's running from 6-10pm. A diverse and thriving arts community is located in the Roosevelt Row Arts District and the Grand Avenue District, both nationally recognized for their incredible arts and engaging events in conjunction with Artlink Phoenix.

*Images courtesy of the Heard Museum, Roosevelt Row Arts District and Grand Avenue District.