Whether you're looking to relax on the beach, adventure through the desert or hit the slopes, we've got a handful of places for you to visit this Spring Break.

JW Marriot Starr Pass Resort and Spa – Tucson

With award-winning restaurants, a nationally acclaimed golf course and a first-class spa, you couldn't ask for anything more at Starr Pass, right? Wrong! Now the kids can spend their vacation weekends with Dora the Explorer and Spongebob Squarepants as the resort brings you Nickelodeon Getaways. Kids will love the Dive-In movies, poolside activities, live shows and dining with their favorite Nickelodeon stars. 520.792.3500 www.jwmarriottstarrpass.com

Hidden Meadow Ranch – Greer

To truly get away from it all, head up to the luxury ranch in Greer. Until March 31, the Ski and Snow Package is available. When you stay two nights, you get the third half off as well as two complimentary adult or child lift tickets to Sunrise Ski Resort, just 30 minutes from the lodge. Alongside skiing, the lodge offers a variety other winter activities like sledding, snowshoeing and horseback riding. 866.333.4080 www.hiddenmeadow.com

Four Seasons Resort Scottsdale at Troon North – Scottsdale

There's something for everyone at the Four Seasons this spring. If you're looking for a romantic evening with your loved one check out Vine & Dine on March 25 for a four-course meal with specialty wines and meet the winemaker. If you feel the need for adventure, be sure to go out for Arizona Adventure Weekends where you can either try mountain biking through the scenic McDowell Mountain Regional Park or kayaking down the Lower Salt River. 480.515.5700 www.fourseasons.com/scottsdale

La Costa Resort and Spa – Carlsbad, Calif.

From March 26 to April 18, La Costa will be hosting spring activities for kids and teens visiting the resort. From Surf Camp to golf trips, there is something for young visitors to do all day. While the little ones are off doing their own thing, why not take the opportunity to unwind at the spa
