Dapper & Stout Coffee Company has launched a new T-shirt campaign to show neighborly love and support its first-responder Pay it Forward Program. Both men's and women's styles are available, and the T-shirts showcase a design that states "Physical Separation = Community Togetherness." Through each purchase, Dapper & Stout will donate a coffee or beverage to the Pay it Forward program. Pre-orders for T-shirts are now available in stores until Thursday, April 24, when T-shirt purchases will be available to order online. Supporters can also make a coffee donation to go to much-deserving healthcare workers, first responders and heroes around the valley by visiting either Dapper & Stout location in Phoenix, downloading the company's app, or visiting the virtual shop.

Gilbert entrepreneurs Akshat Sethi, owner of Thai Chili 2 Go, and Jeremy Jones, co-founder of Funk Fit/Cycle Ave., have teamed up to launch the COMMUNITY T-shirt campaign designed to raise funds that will support small businesses in Gilbert. All of the profits from the shirt sales will go to small businesses in the Gilbert community that have been directly affected by the unexpected impact of COVID-19 by way of gift card purchases that will then be raffled off to community supporters who purchase a shirt. Each T-shirt purchase equals another entry. There are two shirt styles: a women's racerback tank top and men's fit T-shirt, both of which boast the COMMUNITY logo specific to the campaign.

The deadline for T-shirt orders is Wednesday, April 15. $28 at www.collective.deco-apparel.com/page/community
