Joining forces to support members of the military, Semper Fi & America's Fund have once again partnered with The Bob and Renee Parsons Foundation and PXG for the Double Down for Veterans Match Campaign, extending their collaboration to a 13th year.

The campaign raised $28.8 million in just two months, including a $10 million donation match from the Foundation and PXG. All money raised through the campaign goes directly toward supporting service members, veterans and military families across all branches of the U.S. Armed Forces.

"For many of our service members, the effects of their injuries last a lifetime. The continued support from our donors and organizations like The Bob & Renee Parsons Foundation and PXG allow us to be there for our veterans and military families as long as they need us," President, CEO, and Founder Karen Guenther said. "It has been a true honor to work with Bob and Renee over the past 13 years to provide lifetime support to our military families.

Since 2012, the campaign has raised $249 million to aid the veteran community through the generous support of its donors and the matching contributions from the Foundation and PXG.

"When service members return home, support from their community is crucial," U.S. Marine Corps Vietnam War Veteran Bob Parsons said. "Through our partnership with Semper Fi & America's Fund, we aim to remind veterans and their families that they are never alone, and that the support they need continues long after service."
