

Wedding Decor to Die For- Linens

Written by By Heather and Jennifer from Outstanding Occasions

Thursday, 30 September 2010 14:35 - Last Updated Tuesday, 12 October 2010 09:50

In the words of Rachel Zoe, "I die!" No, we are not talking about Oscar dresses, but the five-part wedding décor series that we are bringing to you is just as scrumptious. First up...linens!

Wedding linens can make a huge statement on your big day. After you have chosen your wedding color palette, you can start searching for that perfect linen. With so many great linen companies and so many colors and patterns to choose from, the possibilities are endless. These amazing textures and prints from Nuage Designs, a Florida-based company, will have you saying "I Do" to a beautiful event. Whether you are looking for a sophisticated flock pattern, a bright pop of aqua, the feel of crinkle taffeta, or the deep purple and black combination on the chantilly flocked taffeta, your guests will be wowed immediately when entering the room.

Photo credit: Nuage Designs

Nuage Designs is not the only linen company showcasing gorgeous linens. BBJ Linen, who has a showroom in Chandler, offers a huge variety of linen options also. From the Nile Danube Damask and Nile Blue Lamour combo to the custom Kick-Pleated White and Black table linen, they can help you find the exact linen to match your vision.

Photo credit: BBJ Linen

The newest kid on the local linen block is Wildflower Linens. Based out of California, Wildflower Linens now has a showroom and local representative in Scottsdale. Luxurious is the first word that comes to mind when discussing these linens. If you want to wow your guests, Wildflower Linens will be your best friend. Tables linens, table caps, chair covers, chair pads, they have it all. Don't you just want to reach out and feel these textured beauties?

Wedding Decor to Die For- Linens

Written by By Heather and Jennifer from Outstanding Occasions

Thursday, 30 September 2010 14:35 - Last Updated Tuesday, 12 October 2010 09:50

Photo credit: Wildflower Linens

Cloth Connection and Southwick Linens are two more amazing local linen vendors that have fantastic options as well. So what are you waiting for? Go out and choose the perfect fabric color and texture to begin your décor! Make sure to come back for the remaining topics in the five-part series, "Wedding Décor to Die For," where we will discuss tables and chairs, dance floors, floral and lounge furniture.

Outstanding Occasions

On the most important day of your life, you don't want to be scrambling for phone numbers or running around with flowers. Heather Crabtree and Jennifer Thinnies with Outstanding Occasions have loads of experience and can create custom packages for you- whether you are looking for day-of coordinating or genius, creative ideas. www.outstanding-occasions.com