

Runway Ready Wedding Hair

Written by By Ashley Gain

Tuesday, 16 November 2010 11:25 - Last Updated Tuesday, 16 November 2010 12:18

When it comes to your wedding hairstyle there are so many choices! Your hair sets the tone for your over all look. Pulled back, down with loose curls, flowers or feathers? It can get overwhelming!!

From New York Fashion Week 2010 to the Red Carpet, new looks for your mane straight off the catwalk are entering into the wedding world.

The newest fall hair trends are all about the hair being pulled up and off of the face. Stay away from perfectly placed strands and pinned curls and go for a softer pulled back hair-do. Hair is kept loose and flowy allowing the fly-aways to do just that, fly. Yes, it's true Fly-aways are in!

{Photo Courtesy of The Knot & Grey Zisser}

A new twist on the sophisticated timeless bun has been seen on celebrities up and down 2010 red carpets. A bun pulled on top of the head for a very chic sophisticated look or pulled back to the lower section of the head to create a more gentle romantic look.

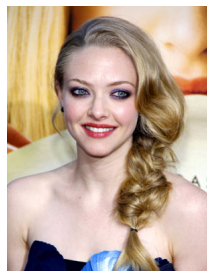

Fashion-forward Sarah Jessica Parker rocked not only a over-sized bun at this years Oscar's but fly-aways in tow creating a very soft look.

{Image Courtesy of Fab Sugar}

Hair we go again! In fashion history certainly repeats itself, so let's take it back old school. Braids are in! Loose side braids or bangs braided back into an up-do inspired look are all the hype this fall.

Braids: soft and chic with a mix of deconstructive style means they are a achievable easy look for almost any bride to wear. Even if a braid is not a perfect fit for your wedding day, wearing this "do" for your rehearsal dinner or bridesmaid's luncheon will help you achieve a stylish look for each special moment leading to your big day.

{Photo By PR Photos}

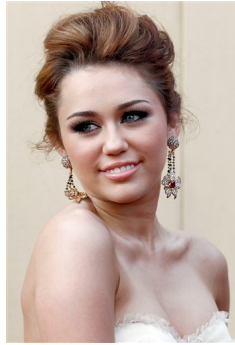

Hair completely pulled back up off the face is nothing short of glam. When working with an elegant "do" your beautiful smile and make-up will become the focal point of pictures. A smokey eye or a red lip creates a stunning look when incorporated with lightly curled, teased and swept back hair.

Guests won't forget the way you looked when your romantic and whimsical hair sets the stage for make-up.

Runway Ready Wedding Hair

Written by By Ashley Gain

Tuesday, 16 November 2010 11:25 - Last Updated Tuesday, 16 November 2010 12:18

{Miley Cyrus at the 2010 Oscar's with upswept hair and smokey eye. Photo Courtesy of AP Photo/Matt Sayles}

The common denominator to these up and coming trends? Femininity. The loose locks, tousled curls, all pulled away from the face creates an automatic sense of romance and elegance.

With these looks you will be runway-ready and your chicness is sure to shine on your BIG day!

Ashley Gain Weddings & Events

"Planning makes perfect" says event planner Ashley Gain, and we have to say, we agree. Gain promises to take you from conceptualization to realization of every detail you have in mind for your big day. She offers several tiers of planning for couples, so you can be as involved- or uninvolved- as you choose. www.ashleygain.com