Brides ask us all of the time about gift ideas for their wedding party. I am big fan of choosing a gift that really reflects each of your friend's styles whether it be through the color selected, font or size. Girls, you know your friends best and everyone's budget is different depending on your wedding party size, but here are five of our favorite gift ideas!

Totes

These jute totes are from Ballard Designs and they make a perfect carry all for any lady. They come in 3 different sizes, several colors, and they can be personalized, which I heart.

Sea Bags is a great company with a mission. They have increased their product portfolio quite a bit since I made my first purchase. These bags are not only indestructible but they make a perfect beach tote, gym tote, yoga tote, grocery tote and the list goes on. I have two sizes; the small and large and I use them all the time. They will even custom design a tote for you! This gift is perfect for a small wedding party or just a special something for your maid of honor.

Clutches

What girl doesn't want an endless supply of clutches to help make her outfit complete? These are just the right size for a cell phone, credit card, lipstick and some mints. Now, you are ready to hit the town. Etsy offers so many shapes, colors and the ability to order matching clutches for your party. It's so easy, find the clutch that catches your eye and place the order!

Christy Alvarado Designs

I love her stylish, simple designs and best of all she is a local artist! You can feel good about each purchase knowing you are doing your part to support our community. She has so many options that the possibilities are endless. Earrings, Bracelets, Chains in every length and more....

Bella Bronze To Go

What girl lays out in the sun anymore? Who has the time? Let me introduce you to a traveling spray tanning expert, Collyn with Bella Bronze! She can do a tanning party with all your friends or can do an individual appointment. The tan lasts for about 7 to 10 days and most important it looks like you just stepped off a beach! No ORANGE whatsoever :) Trust me, I have firsthand experience!

Erin Condren Life Planner

In this day and age I know everyone has virtual calendars but there is something to be said about a life planner that guarantees you have it all together. These customized life planners are every girl's dream of lists done right! I use mine for everything: work, personal, kids and more. It has all the things you could think of and more. Color-coding, stickers, pockets and it can take a beating :) Erin Condren has so many great things that would make perfect gift, this just happens to be one of my favorite. Also just for brides is a wedding planner that will keep all things wedding right on track, check it out here.
