Rachel Roland is exploring the Valley with her two little companions in search of the best restaurants, attractions, and products for you and your children. See what she has in store for you today!

Have you heard of My NapPak? I recently came across them and am thinking they're a fantastic gift for nearly every kid!

If you've ever taken your child to a place where she or he would have to nap, you know what a drag it can be to bring along their blanket and pillow – it sure takes up a lot of space! My NapPak is different because it's an all in one product: blanket, comforter and pillow. It rolls up into a convenient roll that's easy to carry. It rolls out very similar to a sleeping bag, only there's no zipper to worry about – just pull the blanket over and it's off to dreamland!

These are the perfect product for kids who currently attend day care or preschool where they are taking naps. I think they would also be fantastic for spending the night at Grandma's, or at a friends house, or even while travelling. They have an easy carrying strap and are light and easy for a small child to carry, and they would also easily fit into a suitcase. (I might even use a Spacebag to help make it even more compact!) It's also so important for children to have something they are used to when they are sleeping away from home, and My NapPak provides that extra comfort.

Enough about how easy and convenient these are – what about how simply ADORABLE the patterns are?!?

I can see my daughter loving this pattern – she is an animal lover, for sure! Of course, this would be great for a boy or a girl.

My son is extremely into camouflage, which most of the time he calls 'army' – if he had this, he'd probably think he was in the actual Army!

Another one for my sweet daughter – she definitely has gotten the idea that she's some sort of princess!

You can also have every My NapPak monogrammed – which gives that extra special personalized touch for your child. What kid doesn't love having their name on their stuff?

My NapPak currently retails for $49.99 with no monogram, and $61.99 with a monogram. They are completely machine washable, and again, are all ONE PIECE! No more scrambling to find that blanket or pillow just before walking out the door for day care!

They are 54" tall and 24" wide – so they'll be useful for quite a few years! The fleece blanket is also oversized so the child can snuggle up with it and who doesn't love that?

You can also find My NapPak at several local Valley stores:
