It turns out, the names we give our kids might effect their fate with Jolly Old Saint Nick. According to a new survey by "School Stickers," if your child's name is Jake or Laura, they've probably been not-so-nice this year. If you have a Jacob or Sophie, they're probably well-behaved angels.

"School Stickers" released a list of the most naughty and nice boys and girls names. This was based on which names were given the most behavior stickers through the year. The study is only as scientific as the methods of giving out behavior stickers to students, but with 58,000 students in the study, it does give us a sneak peak at what Santa's list may look like.
