

10 Things to do this Weekend in Phoenix: Family Edition

Written by Lauren Grifol

Wednesday, 21 March 2018 13:40 - Last Updated Thursday, 22 March 2018 10:20

10 Things to do this Weekend in Phoenix: Family Edition

From art festivals to cupcake smashing, this weekend March 23 through 25 is full of family-friendly fun to ring in the first weekend of spring.

Friday:

In need of a little getaway? Well, make the trek out to Casa Grande and enjoy the five-day Pinal County Fair. This fair is known to deliver entertainment, thrill rides and yummy fair food to all guests. From eating funnel cakes to screaming on the Zipper, all fair activities will offer plenty of family fun. So come out and enjoy a night of sugar highs, tall heights, fast drops and lots of music. To purchase tickets, click here.

Treat your kiddos to a Movie in the Bark this Friday night and start the weekend off relaxing. This week's movie is "A Dog's Purpose." and the event begins at 7 pm. So bring your kiddos, your pup and a blanket and a get ready to relax and watch a cute movie.

Tempe Festival of the Arts

Head to Tempe this weekend to see the fabulous workings of 350-plus artists from around the country. This event features live music on multiple stages, a kid's area and a special wine tasting event. The festival takes place from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Friday through Sunday, March 23 to 25, on Mill Avenue between Third Street and University Drive. Admission is free, so bring your whole household to this fun event. Tempefestivalofthearts.com.

10 Things to do this Weekend in Phoenix: Family Edition

Written by Lauren Grifol

Wednesday, 21 March 2018 13:40 - Last Updated Thursday, 22 March 2018 10:20

Innings Festival at Tempe's Beach and Arts Park

Although this weekend marks the end of everyone's favorite time of year, spring training, come out and send off your favorite players at the Innings Festival. The Innings Festival is a three-day event that will feature rock, pop and country performances from 36 artists (including Chris Stapleton, Young the Giant, Queens of the Stone Age, The Avett Brothers, etc.) on three stages. This event will also feature culinary demos, as well as curated food vendors, fun family activities and appearances by professional baseball players.

Saturday:

5th Annual Italian Festival at the Scottsdale Civic Center Mall

Celebrate all things Italian this Saturday and Sunday, March 24 and 25 at the Scottsdale Civic Center! This event will feature an array of live music (from musicians flying in from Italy), dance performances, authentic Italian crafts, wine and delicious Italian food. This event is hosted by the Italian Association of Arizona, and a portion of the proceeds from the event will go toward St. Vincent de Paul, an organization that helps feed, clothe, house and heal those in need in Arizona. So grab your favorite tourist outfit and prepare yourselves for an afternoon in Italy. Tickets are $10 pre-sale and $15 at the door and children under 12 are free. To purchase tickets, click here.

Enchanted Tea Party Spring Festival and Cake Smash Party

Did your kids have a hard week? Well, we found just the thing for them to take their frustrations out on, in a healthy, yet not so healthy way. An Enchanted Tea Party featuring an opportunity for a Cake Smash! At the event, you will have the opportunity to purchase a large cupcake for smashing. The event also features a mini photo session for your kiddos along plenty of food, fun, activities, games, shopping and live entertainment for all ages. General admission is free and to RSVP, click here.

10 Things to do this Weekend in Phoenix: Family Edition

Written by Lauren Grifol

Wednesday, 21 March 2018 13:40 - Last Updated Thursday, 22 March 2018 10:20

Arizona Diamondbacks vs. Kansas City Royals

Grab your kiddos and your favorite ball cap and head out to watch the Diamondbacks take on the Kansas City Royals this Saturday at Salt River Fields at Talking Stick. First pitch will be thrown out at 1:05 p.m., and if you are doing it right, the first bite of your hotdog will shortly be following. Click here to purchase tickets.

Sunday:

Yoga at the Heard Museum

This Saturday, March 24, from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. the Rooted Community Yoga Project is putting on another guided yoga session for all ages and levels. After the class, take your little learners on a tour of the museum and enjoy a morning together. The class is only $10 and it gets admission to the museum. So come out and prepare your kids for the week by getting them in a zen state of mind.

The King and I \(Touring\) at ASU Gammage

Known as one of Rodgers and Hammerstein's finest works, The King and I is a musical that features fan favorites and beloved classics like Getting To Know You, Hello Young Lovers, Shall We Dance, I Have Dreamed, and Something Wonderful. The King and I is set in 1860's Bangkok and tells the story of a relationship that develops between the King of Siam and Anna Leonowens, a British school teacher. Enjoy this show with your family as they see a king and a queen sing and dance all over the stage. Tickets range from $45 to $175. To purchase tickets, click here.

10 Things to do this Weekend in Phoenix: Family Edition

Written by Lauren Grifol

Wednesday, 21 March 2018 13:40 - Last Updated Thursday, 22 March 2018 10:20

Finish off the weekend with a picnic in the park. Come out to the Scottsdale Civic Center Park and enjoy the beautiful weather, your family's company, live music, kid's activities and an arts and crafts market. You will also have the option for complimentary docent-led tours of the sculptures in the park.