As you're excitedly waiting for kickoff, there are some fun DIY decorations you can make before the game with your family and fellow fans.

Football Banner

This is a very simple craft that can add a cute wall feature for the game.

Items:

String

Mini clothes pins

Brown foam paper

White foam tape

- 1.) Take the brown foam paper and create football shapes with them.
- 2.) Use the white foam tape to make the laces of the football.
- 3.) Attach the footballs to the string with the mini clothes pins.
- 4.) Place the football banner where you'd like.

This craft is also very simple and can help organize your snack-filled food area.

Items:

Football printouts

Styrofoam spheres

Green paint

Toothpicks

Tape

- 1.) Print out little footballs and see if they have a wide enough space in the lace area to write the specific item (if they don't, you can add a piece of white tape to the middle and write it on that).
- 2.) Cut the spheres in half so they can stand up.
- 3.) Paint the spheres green and let them dry (you can use something else, such as green cloth, if you don't want to paint).
- 4.) Tape the toothpicks to the back of the football printout.
- 5.) Place them into the styrofoam grass.

These can hold your drinks in a festive way—and prevent drink rings on your table.

Items:

Astroturf sample

An item to put under the sample so drinks don't leak through the astroturf (possibly a tile sample)

A mini decorative football

Tape or glue

1.) Take your astroturf sample (you can get from a home improvement store) and place it on top of a flat piece of something that has no holes (such as a tile sample).

2.) Use either tape or glue (whichever you prefer or think works best) and apply that to the solid item so the astroturf stays on.

3.) Use tape or glue to attach a mini decorative football!

Snack Stadium

This craft is actually be easier than it might seem, and is a cute way to organize game-day grub.

Items:

Poster board (thick)

Football table cover

Glue

- 1.) Place the football table cover where you want the snacks to be.
- 2.) Form a rectangle with four pieces of poster board and use strong enough glue to keep them together.
- 3.) Create a mini rectangle for the middle with four smaller pieces of poster board.
- 4.) Place small pieces of poster board between the main and mini rectangle to create sections wherever you'd like.
- 5.) Put snacks where you'd like.
