Tolmachoff Farms [GLENDALE]

With a six-acre family corn maze, a mini corn maze for the kiddos, a petting zoo, a hay pyramid and a pumpkin patch, Tolmachoff Farms is a perfect place to participate in fall festivities and pick the prettiest pumpkin. The farm will be open from Sept. 28 through Nov. 4. Admission prices are $12; admission is free for ages 2 and younger. For more information, click here.

Vertuccio Farms [MESA]

Vertuccio Farms might offer the most unique celebration of fall in the state. With pumpkin bowling, barrel train rides, duck races and a seven-acre corn maze, you can expect endless surprises and fun at this Mesa-based farm. Vertuccio Farms will be open Oct. 1 through Nov. 4. Admission tickets are $10; children 2 and younger are free. For more information, click here.

Schnepf Farms [QUEEN CREEK]

Over the years, Schnepf Farms has been continuously voted by Phoenix Magazine, the Phoenix New Times and Sunset Magazine as 'The Best Fall Family Event in the Valley.' A trip to Schnepf Farms is guaranteed to be a cozy and memorable experience for the whole family. The farm will be open every Thursday through Sunday in October. Admission tickets range from $15 to $20; admission is free for children 1 and younger. For more information, click here.

Mother Nature's Farm [GILBERT]

This family-owned and operated farm hosts some of the Valley's most festive Halloween and fall-centric events. At Mother Nature's Farm, you can pick your pumpkin and decorate it too! The farm is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., every day, throughout the entire month of October. Admission tickets are $10 for children and $5 for adults. For more information, click here.

The Pumpkin Patch Train [WILLIAMS]

Every Saturday and Sunday in October, the Grand Canyon Railway will offer festive train rides from the Grand Canyon Railroad Station to a pumpkin patch. Prices for admission tickets range from $21 to $26. Admission includes a pumpkin to take home, a ride in a haunted train car, refreshments, access to a hay-bale maze and crafts. MacDonald's Ranch [SCOTTSDALE]

MacDonald's Ranch works as a full-service ranch and farm all year long. But in the fall, the ranch transforms into a magical space that offers fun for families and fall-lovers alike. Between their gold-panning activities, petting zoo, train rides and pedal cars, MacDonald's Ranch is a true, western gem in the East Valley. The Ranch is open Wednesday through Monday, from Sept. 29 to Oct. 30. Admission prices range from $10 to $12; ages 1 and younger are free. For more information, click here.

Mortimer Family Farms [DEWEY]

Mortimer Farms is a real pumpkin, corn, berry and veggies farm that is nestled in the heart of Dewey. The quintessential farm has been open to the public for over a decade. Aside from hosting charming, seasonal events for the community, they also provide an avenue for visitors to buy farm-fresh produce. Their most popular event is their seasonal Pumpkin Festival. The centerpiece of this year's festival is a 15-acre pumpkin patch and a 15-acre corn maze. Mortimer Family Farms will be open Friday through Sunday, from Sept. 28 to Oct. 28. Admission tickets are
