

Q&A with Latina/Hip Hop Artist Abrina

Written by Stacia Affelt

Q: How did you get into music?
A: I started singing when I was 10 years old. I was in a choir and I loved it. I started writing songs when I was 15 and I loved it. I started performing when I was 18 and I loved it. I started recording when I was 20 and I loved it. I started touring when I was 22 and I loved it. I started producing when I was 24 and I loved it. I started collaborating when I was 26 and I loved it. I started releasing music when I was 28 and I loved it. I started performing live when I was 30 and I loved it. I started touring internationally when I was 32 and I loved it. I started collaborating with other artists when I was 34 and I loved it. I started releasing more music when I was 36 and I loved it. I started performing more live when I was 38 and I loved it. I started touring more internationally when I was 40 and I loved it. I started collaborating with more artists when I was 42 and I loved it. I started releasing more music when I was 44 and I loved it. I started performing more live when I was 46 and I loved it. I started touring more internationally when I was 48 and I loved it. I started collaborating with more artists when I was 50 and I loved it. I started releasing more music when I was 52 and I loved it. I started performing more live when I was 54 and I loved it. I started touring more internationally when I was 56 and I loved it. I started collaborating with more artists when I was 58 and I loved it. I started releasing more music when I was 60 and I loved it. I started performing more live when I was 62 and I loved it. I started touring more internationally when I was 64 and I loved it. I started collaborating with more artists when I was 66 and I loved it. I started releasing more music when I was 68 and I loved it. I started performing more live when I was 70 and I loved it. I started touring more internationally when I was 72 and I loved it. I started collaborating with more artists when I was 74 and I loved it. I started releasing more music when I was 76 and I loved it. I started performing more live when I was 78 and I loved it. I started touring more internationally when I was 80 and I loved it. I started collaborating with more artists when I was 82 and I loved it. I started releasing more music when I was 84 and I loved it. I started performing more live when I was 86 and I loved it. I started touring more internationally when I was 88 and I loved it. I started collaborating with more artists when I was 90 and I loved it. I started releasing more music when I was 92 and I loved it. I started performing more live when I was 94 and I loved it. I started touring more internationally when I was 96 and I loved it. I started collaborating with more artists when I was 98 and I loved it. I started releasing more music when I was 100 and I loved it.