There's a fine line between self care and self indulgence, but as far as we're concerned there's no room for fine lines, especially on our face. Take this quarantine time to treat your skin to these effective face masks and treat your sanity to perfectly paired wines.

Champagne + Herbivore Prism Exfoliating Glow Facial

How do you go from dull to radiant in just 10 minutes? With a glass of bubbly of course. Or you could simply slather on this jelly-textured face mask that promises bright, radiant skin in a few minutes. With a blend of 20-percent fruit-based AHAs, rose water and aloe vera gel, this mask brightens, soothes and clarifies. Buy here

Sauvignon Blanc + Fresh Rose Face Mask

With ingredients like rosewater, cucumber extract and aloe vera gel to cool and calm dried out skin, this lightweight mask requires a bright, crisp wine like a sauvignon blanc. The refreshing vino's herby flavors of grass and citrus will transport you to a garden and since this mask features a fresh rose scent and has real rose petals in it, we think it's a perfect match. ### Pinot Grigio + Farmacy Honey Potion Renewing Antioxidant Face Mask

Crisp and citrusy, pinot grigio can sometimes display undertones of honey that cut through the acidic flavors. Pair with this face mask that hydrates and plumps skin back to its glowing state. And like pinot grigio, we think honey goes great with everything, from sweet fruits and desserts to spicy dishes and more. Buy here

Rosé + Summer Fridays Jet Lag Mask

We can't help but think of a warm vacation in the south of France when hearing the words summer Fridays and jet lag. Which is why this super hydrating face mask is best paired with rosé, the ideal poolside drink for hot days and European getaways. Buy here

Syrah + Tatcha Violet-C Radiance Mask

Syrah is packed with plenty of big fruit flavors including dark berries like blueberries and blackberries. Pair this full-bodied wine with this anti-aging mask that's made with an AHA complex from seven different fruits and powered by the Japanese beautyberry, a superfruit rich in antioxidants. It also features two different types of Vitamin C for maximum glow. Buy here

Pinot Noir + Peter Thomas Roth Pumpkin Enzyme Mask

Like autumn in a jar, this triple-action exfoliating treatment is for all our basic ladies out there. And what's more basic than a glass of pinot noir, the perfect wine to transition from summer to fall but also great year-round...just like pumpkin. Buy here

Cabernet Sauvignon + Glow Recipe Avocado Melt Retinol Sleeping Mask

A bold glass of cabernet is best served with something fatty due to its dryness. Enter: avocado, our favorite fatty food that's also great for your skin. Made with both avocado oil and avocado extract, this rich and creamy mask was made to work overtime while you sleep, something easy to do after a whole bottle of cabernet. Buy here
