Arizona Foothills Magazine was at Opening Day for the Diamondbacks, and an incredible time was had by all on the club level. The bartenders actually ran out of all lite beers on tap before the game even began, people were so in the mood to relax.

There were plenty of businesspeople at Chase Field- a testament to the fact that there's nothing better than escaping reality for an afternoon of brewskis and baseball. And the Diamondbacks winning? Icing on the cake. Or is it mustard on the brat?
