Hungry? We aren't at the moment, because we've been reading Bethenny Frankel's book, Naturally Thin. But if you are in the mood to slam wine and pound exotic flavors from around the globe, have we got an event for you.

Taste 2009, "A World of Flavor", is a popular Valley taste-a-thon, being held this Sunday at Kierland. Guests will try more than 60 wines and food from more than 50 Valley eateries. Presented by University of Phoenix, Taste will benefit the Boys & Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Phoenix. Tickets are $150 and can be snatched up at Taste2009.com. We're full already just thinking about it.
