It's not just kids who love bubbles. A Scottsdale Public Art exhibit at the Scottsdale Civic Bell Tower called Bubble Fountain, by Melissa McGurgan and Marco Rosichelli of Tempe, will be on display through June 30.

Walk through the bell tower and your footsteps will magically trigger a release of bubbles scented with amazing aromas?think citrus, mint and salt water?which float around creating a fun and refreshing atmosphere. What a way to greet the onset of summer! 480.874.4645, www.scottsdalepublicart.org.
