Hungry for something naughty, but not that naughty?

We were at our favorite gas station yesterday looking for something sweet, and came across this little Fling bar-

Why have we never seen these?

A few deets:

- They're by Mars
- They are the size of a Twix, and just as heavy/substantial
- They are 85 calories per bar (you get two)
- They are delicious truffle-y centers, with a crispy bite (think See's molasses chips and truffles, combined)
- There's a thick chocolate-y coating
- They come in plain and hazelnut flavors

Trash the hundred calorie packs! We'd rather spend 170 on something AMAZING than 100 on cardboard.
