

Be a Blushing Bride

Written by By Heather and Jennifer from Outstanding Occasions

Wednesday, 18 May 2011 11:15 -

We all know Reese Witherspoon is known as “America’s Sweetheart.” Who doesn’t love her southern charm, big smile and of course her fashion style? Her choice to use the color blush for her wedding gown has designers scrambling to put together fabric swatches of blush tones for brides. Monique Lhuillier was the designer behind Reese’s look and lo and behold she debuted some beautiful blush choices in New York in April. I have to admit that it tickles me “blush” to think that brides may consider, now more than ever, choosing something outside of the traditional white or ivory color palette. Here are a few of my favorites!

Photo from Monique Lhuillier

This frothy masterpiece looks so light and romantic that any bride would literally float down the aisle.

Photo by Monique Lhuillier

This spaghetti strap dress gives off the appearance of hundreds of feathers. It’s airy and ethereal with a touch of tradition.

Photo by Monique Lhuillier

This corset style is sexy but sweet. I love the delicate lines across the chest paired with intricate beading and full skirt.

Be a Blushing Bride

Written by By Heather and Jennifer from Outstanding Occasions

Wednesday, 18 May 2011 11:15 -

Outstanding Occasions

On the most important day of your life, you don't want to be scrambling for phone numbers or running around with flowers. Heather Crabtree and Jennifer Thinnies with Outstanding Occasions have loads of experience and can create custom packages for you- whether you are looking for day-of coordinating or genius, creative ideas. www.outstanding-occasions.com