

Beautiful Bouquets

Written by Marissa Jo & Ashley Gain

Wednesday, 20 March 2013 08:26 -

First, let's listen to one of my FAVORITE sayings, "it's all in the details." It could NOT be more true when it comes to your wedding day!

The one detail that will be in more pictures with you than even your groom is your bouquet. It's personal and unique to you and your personal style.

Traditionally, bouquets were simple, plain, and understated. But the current bouquets are an accessory meant to enhance your beauty and the beauty of your dress. So, throw those misconceptions out the window. Remember, your bouquet should make a statement about who YOU are and the look you want to achieve for your day.

For this bouquet design the inspiration came from our bride that loves bold colors and beautiful florals that were allowed to take on their unique movements. The use of pink, red, and pops of purple in this gorgeous bouquet makes a statement piece that matched perfectly with the rest of the wedding's décor.

{Concept by Ashley Gain Weddings, Flowers by Your Event Florist, Photography by Marnie Marriott}

Our romantic winter bride chose this all red bouquet as the only colored accent in her entire ceremony. Whites, greys mixed with stunning candle light surrounded guests, but when the bride walked down the aisle the all red bouquet next to her stunning white lace gown caught everyone's eye.

{Concept by Ashley Gain Weddings, Flowers by Petal Pushers, Photography by Christine Johnson}

This bouquet of soft white and deep red flowers fit the nautical feel of our now husband and wife's boat wedding without taking it literally. The colors, textures and flowers kept the feel really classy, but gave lots of diverse details. By using contrasting colors and shapes of flowers, this bouquet brings a lot of interest and glamour to our bride's look.

{Flowers by Encore Creative, Photography by Gina Meola}

For the bride that loves bling- this is the perfect sparkling bouquet. The florist wrapped the stems with full strands of crystals and added a crystal brooch that was the bride's mother's, making the bouquet full of meaning along with style.

Beautiful Bouquets

Written by Marissa Jo & Ashley Gain
Wednesday, 20 March 2013 08:26 -

{Concept by Ashley Gain Weddings, Flowers by Table Tops, Photography by Radiant Photography}

Chic, glam and romantic were the requirements for this bridal bouquet. This bouquet exudes romance, with all white, big beautiful peonies, and the stems wrapped completely by rhinestones. It is timeless and full of style.

{Concept by Ashley Gain Weddings, Flowers by Petal Pushers, Photography by Melissa Schollaert}

Flowers can add glamour, romance, personality, and most importantly they can bring your whole look together! As you are walking down the aisle, make sure you have something that compliments you, but doesn't take away from you. A beautiful and unique bouquet of flowers is a detail you and your guests will never forget. After all it will be in almost all of your photos!