EXTRA EXTRA!

Is this the new Arizona Foothills Office?

Spotted in Mexico in a private location, Michael Dee of Arizona Foothills Magazine hides away in this Mexican mansion. It was said that Michael was tired of the 1st floor remodel not being finished... but was that the only reason for leaving Mr. Dee? He has only been in contact with a few people in the office, telling them that he wants to move the Arizona Foothills office to this Mexican household. One person tells us that they saw a few people carrying out office supplies and computers when they drove by the 'old' office.

We contacted his communication director, who had no comment. An intern who works for Michael part time says she had not spoken to him since last week, and that his phone was off...How long will he be on this lavish vacation? Wonder what the AZ socialite has been up to below the border? Guess we hope to find out soon!
