

Phoenix Suns Search for In-Arena Emcee

Written by Kirstina Bolton

Wednesday, 15 August 2012 09:38 -

EXTRA! EXTRA!

If you can shout "Let's get ready to rummmble!" like Michael Buffer, you may have a chance to be the voice of the Phoenix Suns home games. They're looking for an entertaining in-arena personality who will help energize US Airways Center for all 2012-13 Suns home games. The in-arena host will interact with fans and fire-up the crowd during in-game contests and promotions, as well as conduct interviews with Suns' players and coaches.

Candidates must be at least 18 years of age, have a minimum of two years of experience in a related field, and be able to showcase knowledge of the Suns. Individuals with performance experience who have strong interpersonal and improvisational skills are encouraged to submit a video demo at Suns.com/Emcee.