

Only Happens Once Every 100 Years...

Written by Melissa Larsen

Thursday, 06 December 2012 08:44 - Last Updated Monday, 10 December 2012 07:55

Wednesday marks Dec. 12, 2012--otherwise, 12/12/12. Because this date sequence only occurs every 100 years--that is once if our lifetimes--Phoenix's Mane Attraction Salon is doling out some special deals and giveaways to commemorate this date. (PS How many weddings do you think are going on this Wednesday?)

From 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Mane Attraction Salon guests can expect:

- $12 off every haircut, color, style or service
- the 12th caller to schedule a service that day will be gifted with a free haircut and a deep-conditioning masque
- the 12th client to check in that day will receive all of their booked services gratis

So instead of holding off on getting those dead-ends chopped off or getting those roots touched up, this Wednesday might be to time to get your 'do done. www.maneattractionsalon.com.