

Arizona Natives Open Upscale Designer Resale Store

Written by Alexa Forshay

Monday, 28 January 2013 13:33 - Last Updated Monday, 28 January 2013 14:30

EXTRA EXTRA!

Twice Designer Resale is open for business in the trendy SouthBridge area of Scottsdale! Owned and operated by Arizona natives Brittany Korey and Connie Cracolici, this upscale consignment shop is sure to have something for everyone. Featuring high-end designer brands such as Christian Louboutin, Louis Vuitton, Joe's Jeans and Chanel, Connie and Brittany came up with the idea for this local gem when they were trying to find a profitable yet fun way to clean out their overflowing closets. They decided an upscale consignment shop would be the perfect way to combine their love of fashion and need to organize their closets, and immediately began searching for the perfect location. They set their sights on a storefront right on the corner of E. Stetson Drive and 5th Avenue, and are entering their fifth month of business.

Connie and Brittany didn't want their store to be another typical consignment store--they wanted to focus on more than just the sale. At Twice, customers are treated like friends. They are given personalized recommendations from the owners themselves, as well as future notifications when new merchandise comes into the store. Connie and Brittany aim to develop lasting relationships with their customers, and provide a memorable shopping experience.

For more information, feel free to call 480-428-1518 or e-mail TwiceConsignment@yahoo.com. You can also visit the store yourself, located at 7094 East 5th Ave., Scottsdale AZ.

Twice Storefront in SouthBridge

Owners Connie Cracolici and Brittany Korey