

Experience Ireland in Phoenix

Written by Melissa Larsen

Monday, 25 February 2013 09:04 - Last Updated Wednesday, 27 February 2013 13:32

With St. Patrick's Day right around the corner, locals are surely wondering how to get in the spirit. Well, Phoenix's Musical Instrument Museum hosts "Experience Ireland" to celebrate Irish culture during St. Patrick's Day weekend on March 16 and 17. The two-day event will offer activities (many free with museum admission) designed to immerse the local community in Irish culture and heritage. Among the long list of activities, there will be step-dancing demos and lessons, Celtic cuisine, Irish crafts as well as a Celtic drumming workshop on Saturday and two concerts in MIM Music Theater on Sunday (not included with museum admission and can be purchased separately). "Experience Ireland" is the third cultural event in MIM's "Unity Through Diversity" partnership with PetSmart. www.mim.org.